

The Roman Civilization has three very different time periods, the developmental stage called the archaic period, the Republic called the classical stage and the Empire period called the Imperial Period. Each stage has a beginning, a high point, and an end. The entire civilization lasts 1500 years and each period is of equal value. Start your time line at 1000 BC and end at 500 AD. List at least 5 major events in each era. List events that you consider significant; had the biggest impact. Pick events from different systems; Political, Social, Economic, Education, and Cultural. Label or distinguish by some means each era on your time line. Your time line should indicate the rise and fall of the Roman Empire in some way. Use this as a worksheet for events that you will put on your big timeline

List the beginning event and the ending event for each era. (Political History)

	Beginning (date and event)	Ending (date and event)
Archaic
Republic
Empire

Below list and describe first and event that occurred during the Archaic period and then describe at least one cultural, social and economic aspect during the Archaic period :

	Event for Timeline (date and description of event)	Conditions/Issues (type of government, what they wore, social classes, economic activity)
political social cultural economic

Now during the Republic.

	Event for Timeline (date and description of event)	Conditions/Issues present (type of government, what they wore, social classes, economic activity)
political
social cultural
economic

during the Empire or Imperial Era:

	Event for Timeline (date and description of event)	Conditions/Issues present (type of government, what they wore, social classes, economic activity)
political
social cultural
economic

After listing events on the time line tell which period had the strongest Political, Social, and Economic systems. In other terms, which period was the strongest or most effective and tell why?
